He sent me basically the same message an hour earlier last night. He tricked me into thinking someone had told him something and I came clean (no details - just that I saw her in ny). He went nuts. He came over abt 10 and we had a really bad night. Bottom line, I need to cut it off or lose my relationship with john, which I may have done already. I need to talk to you when you have 5 minutes. Hope your date went ok - call me at home 202/232-0525.
